THE RAILWAY IN LUNENBURG

Work Is Now Progressing Rapidly-Surveying the Deep Water Line.

(Spicial to The Times-Dispatch.) MEHERRIN, VA., July 21.—The cours southwest of this place in a portion of Charlotte and Prince Edward counties were considerably damaged by the haif and wind storm that passed over this section a few days ago. Several farmers had their tobacco crop almost totally ruined by being beat from the stalk, and several instances have been reported where the corn stalk was stripped entirely of all the fodder. Other crops were damaged to a great extent in an area that covered several miles in who path of the storm. Oats and wheat was considerably damaged by the wind, being blown down in shocks as well as in the

WHISKEY SEIZED.

Revenue office's seized nine kegs of corn whiskey here from the Leigh District dispensary a few days ago that was unstamped. This whiskey was shipped from a North Carolina distillery, and the evasion of the revenue law is placed upon these people, who, it is claimed, had no right to ship more than five gallons to one concern without a stamp. The whiskey seized was shipped to Collector Asa Rogers at Richmond, Va.

BUILDING A RAILROAD,

A large force of hands is employed on the railroad from near this place through a portion of Lunenburg county, which is being built by the Lunenburg Lumber Company, and work is progressing very rapidly. There is no doubt now but that this road will be completed, and it is only a matter of a few months before Lunenburg will have a railway within her borders. This line when completed will be about forty miles in length, and penetrate the most heavily timbered lands in this county.

The Tidewater Railway Company, which have had a corps of engineers camping at this place for the past two weeks, moved their camps near-fluermont, this county, to-day. Several lines have been run near this place, going east accertification in the Nottoway River, which they will follow to deep water. From the information elicited from these people there are good prospects of this road being completed, and this route is said to be very favorable, which would indicate that in a few years Lunenburg will have a trunk line almost through her cerist.

SCHOOL OF METHODS.

Fourth Week at the University Ends To-day.

Ends To-day.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 21.—
To-morrow closes the fourth week of the skieenth annual session of the Virginia Summer School of Methods, now in session at the University of Virginia. Up to three years ago the school ran only four weeks. Three years ago the University course was added and the term continued to six weeks. Last year and this year the entire school was extended for six weeks, and this will be the case hereafter. At the end of the fourth week heretofore a spod many teachers had left, but this year very few of the 550 odd have departodd. The model of the year very few of the $50 odd have departed.

Dr. Arnold Thompkins, principal of the Chicago Normal School and a worthy successor in this office of the great Colonel Francis W. Parker, will lecture at the school next week, giving ten lectures in all, two a day. The subjects will be "Principles of Education" and "School Management." Another addition to the otyps for next week is Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, of New York, formerly of Richmond College. Dr. Chandler is the author of "Makers of American History" and "Makers of Virginia History," two books which have been recently adopted in nearly every county in Virginia. Dr. Chandler's subject will be "Methods in United States History."

FARMVILLE DISTRICT CONFERENCE WORK

The Second Day's Session of That Body Full of Interest.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHASE CITY, VA., July 21.—The second day's session of the Farmville District Conference began yesterday morning with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Joseph G. Lennon, of Bucking-ing with devoltonal exercises conducted by Rev. Joseph G. Lennon, of Buckingham.

The four charges not reporting yesterday submitted reports through pastors and laymen, and all of the twenty-one preachers on the district have answered to their names except Revs. C. D. Crowley and T. O. Edwards.

On motion of Rev. W. E. Grant, the conference passed resolutions expressing the deep regret of the body at the untimely death of the late R. E. Bridgeforth, of Amelia, and copies of same were ordered spread upon the minutes and sent to the family of the deceased.

Judge W. E. Holmes, chalrman of the Committee on Finance, submitted an interesting report and also a prepared paper on the subject, both of which were adopted.

Rev. J. C. Mastin, superintendent of the Virginia Conference Orphanage was introduced to the body.

Rev. George H. Green, of Blackstone, offered a report on Epworth League, which was adopted after discussion.

At 11:30 A. M. Rev. J. B. Winn, of Farmville, preached a sermon of great carnestness and power from Romans 1:16.

'The Conference resumed business at 2:30 and reports from the Committees on Sunday Schools, Bible Course and Spiritual Condition of the Church were presented and adopted.

The Committee on Admissions reported, recommending Rev. J. K. Walker, a local preacher for admission into the annual conference and the body voted unanimously for his admission.

Last night Rev. J. C. Mastin, superintendent of the Orphanage, delivered a very interesting address on the work in which he is engaged.

The following lay delegates were chosen to the annual Conference, which meets next November in Lynchburg: E. S. Emory, of Chase City; W. C. Slate, of Hallfax; J. E. Clarke, of Cumberland; L. A. Hardy, of Lunenburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, VA., July 21:—While reading a letter telling of his son's hopeless illiness in West Virginia, Hurricane Branch, the well known detective, today fell senseess to the sidewalk, and it was more than an hour before physicians could restore consciousness. The detective was taken to the Nansemond Hotel, where he was attended by Drs. Gibson and Phillips.

Dr. Gibson sald this afternoon that the heat was in part responsible for Mr. Branch's sudden collapse. Mr. Branch himself, when seen late this afternoon, was better, but still confined to his bed. He says the heat did not overcome him, but it was pain and excitement that the letter brought. Branch's illness is not believed to be serious.

The letter which caused the attack of unconsciousness brought news that Shelley Branch, aged twenty-one years, who is now in Glen Jean, W. Va, has grown much worse, and the detective has given up all hopes of his recovery. Shelley recently contracted a case of galloping consumption.
